

Kenny Chung

Cursor Ambassador & Security Researcher

Technical community leader with a unique path from privacy law to full-stack development to blockchain security. Currently a Cursor Ambassador in Bangkok — spending the past year building the local user community through workshops, meetups, and hands-on support. Founder of Midgar, a security audit firm with a proven track record across 32 audits. I combine deep technical expertise with strong communication skills to deliver exceptional developer support and community engagement.

EXPERIENCE

Anysphere (Cursor) · Bangkok, Thailand

Cursor Ambassador

Mar 2025 – Present

- Spearheaded growth of the Bangkok Cursor community — organizing "Café Cursor" meetups, technical workshops, and social events
- Ran hands-on workshops helping developers get set up with Cursor, troubleshoot configuration issues, and adopt AI-assisted workflows for the first time
- Gathered direct user feedback and pain points to relay to the core team, bridging the product-community gap
